Critics charge they make for too many voices, a lot of unnecessary blather, and if even one guy isn't a team player, the whole thing just won't work.

But Tom Verducci, who is completing his first year in the Fox baseball booth alongside fellow analyst Harold Reynolds and play-by-play man Joe Buck, says there are ways to avoid such perils.

"You have to be a little more concise with your points in a three-man booth, which is not a bad thing," says Verducci, who will be on the telecast with Reynolds and Buck when Fox's coverage of the 2014

World Series kicks off Tuesday, Oct. 21. "I don't think it's so much a peril as just an awareness to get in and out of something a little bit quicker."

"That's where, to me, I've seen how good Joe Buck is," he continues. "I mean, I always knew he was one of the best in the business, but then to just kind of change gears from a two-man booth to a three-man booth so flawlessly and seamlessly, it's not like he needs to dominate a telecast. ... Almost like in basketball, if one guy needed the ball a lot and the other two are going to suffer — I don't feel that's the case with the three of us."

In essence, explains Verducci, Buck's role is as the booth's point guard, whose function is to keep the traffic flowing.

“And when you say that, it doesn’t sound like a whole lot ... but that is a skill, believe me,” he says. “My loose definition — when I’m watching sports — of greatness is making the difficult look easy. And I think that’s what Joe does in a telecast — just keep the flow going. Well, it sounds easy, but especially with different voices — and don’t forget we also have one down on the field, Kenny Rosenthal; he’s really a fourth voice and a big part of the telecast — you really have to be a point guard and keep it flowing and distributing the ball. so to speak.”

And so far, notes Verducci, it's been a blast going to work. "We're all the same way," he says. "We're just kind of eating, sleeping and breathing baseball, so it's really fun."

Why 'Bones' said goodbye to one of its own

BY JAY BOBBIN © Zap2it
Q: Why was Sweets killed off "Bones"? – Judy Powers, via e-mail

A: After we saw that episode, we knew it would take only about two minutes for fans to start writing and asking ... and indeed, they did. Stephen Nathan, an executive producer of the Fox show, sent a letter to the press acknowledging "all the hate mail" received over the decision to end actor John Francis Daley's run on the series. Nathan's simple explanation was, "Shows evolve." Killing off a major character is always a big – and risky – way to do that, but the producer assures that the character and the program will "make sure Sweets didn't die for nothing" as the season proceeds.

Q: I see that "Saturday Night Live" is marking its 40th anniversary this season. Who was the show's first guest host? – Pete Dodge, Antioch, Calif.

A: George Carlin filled that role to help inaugurate the NBC show on Oct. 11, 1975. Interestingly, it was only called "Saturday Night" then, because Howard Cosell was hosting a primetime ABC variety show titled "Saturday Night Live" ... whose ensemble of comedy players happened to include someone named Bill Murray. Both he and the title became parts of the NBC franchise in 1977. If you're interested in classic "Saturday Night Live" episodes, NBC has started a weekly prime-time hour on Saturdays dubbed "Vintage SNL," featuring some of those installments (including the one with guest host Richard Pryor that started that run last month). Not only is that a nice way to mark the 40-year milestone, it also gives extra promotion to the new "SNL" episode that airs later that night.

Q: Has the program "Gang Related" been canceled? – Georgia Rawle, Kingman, Ariz.

A: It has. Though the Fox series had a fairly consistent audience during its run over the past summer, it didn't start out at a very high level after the drama was delayed from its originally intended midseason debut. Also, Fox reportedly had concerns about running a show so serialized in nature during the warm-weather months ... though CBS' "Under the Dome" and ABC's "Mistresses" have been such shows.

Q: Whenever I watch "North by Northwest" on Turner Classic Movies, I'm amazed by the chase across Mount Rushmore toward the end. Was that scene actually filmed there? – George Harris, via e-mail

A: Sorry to pull back the curtain on some movie magic, but no, it wasn't. Director Alfred Hitchcock couldn't get permission to film at the actual site since officials didn't want a national monument associated with a murder plot, so the enormous carvings of presidents' faces were re-created on a studio set in California. Even then, Hitchcock was judicious with camera angles during the sequences, so that the presidents' images weren't seen in shots that involved violence between the characters.

Sunday

NASCAR Racing

1 p.m. on ESPN

With the Eliminator Round looming after today's Geico 500, survival will be on the minds of Chase contenders as they prepare to do battle on Alabama's infamous Talladega Superspeedway. The 2.66-mile tri-oval is known for high speeds and tight racing quarters that can lead to "the big one," multicar pileups that can put an early end to a driver's day and thus dash Cup hopes. Jeff Gordon, Dale Earnhardt Jr. and Matt Kenseth all have run well here.

America's Funniest Home Videos

6 p.m. on KMBC

Someone call Child Protective Services, now! Among the highlights of tonight's new episode, a pair of truly twisted parents remove the cream filling from an Oreo and replace it with toothpaste to film their kids' reaction. Elsewhere, a man inadvertently presents a cautionary tale about the perils of turning cartwheels in a hotel room with low-hanging ceiling sprinklers, and a little boy is ecstatic after getting his first kiss. Tom Bergeron hosts.

The Simpsons

7 p.m. on WDAF

In the new annual spooktacular "Treehouse of Horror XXV," after Bart reads a set of Aramaic symbols on the underside of his desk, he and Lisa are hurled into a demon-filled alternate universe. In a parody of "A Clockwork Orange," Dum (Homer) wants out of Moe's vicious gang to please his new girlfriend (Marge). Finally, the Simpsons are visited by the cruder versions of themselves from "The Tracey Ullman Show" in a send-up of "The Others." Dan Castellaneta, Julie Kavner and Nancy Cartwright head the voice cast.

Masterpiece Classic

7 p.m. on KCPT, KTWU

Management isn't all it's cracked up to be, especially when you're working in a tony establishment like "The Paradise." In the new "Episode Four" of Season 2, Denise (Joanna Vanderham) faces her first serious personnel problem. Elsewhere, a desperate Moray (Emun Elliott) sets a Hail Mary plan into action, while Myrtle (Lisa Millett) confronts a big challenge of her own.

The Real Housewives of New Jersey

7 p.m., 9 p.m., 10:30 p.m., 12:01 a.m.,

1:32 a.m. on BRAVO

In "Judgment Day," the season finale, escalating tensions between the two Teresas threatens to derail Dina's swiftly approaching Ladybug Charity event. Elsewhere, Amber loses her hair again, this time for a good cause, while Joe and Melissa break ground on their dream home. After pleading guilty to multiple drug charges, Joe and Teresa Giudice learn their fate in federal court — and it isn't pretty.

Guy's Grocery Games

7 p.m., 2 a.m. on FOOD

Five is the key word as the chefs are challenged to make a five-star seafood dinner using five ingredients or less in the first round. Next, the chefs play a new lasagna-centric game inspired by an online fan, then the last two chefs still standing try to create their ultimate burger. Troy Johnson, Beau MacMillan and Catherine McCord are the judges in the new episode "Fan-Tastic Food."

Madam Secretary

7:01 p.m. on KCTV

When a crafty Elizabeth (Tea Leoni) is called upon to negotiate with Iran regarding their escalating nuclear program, she is determined to do so peacefully instead of following the president's (Keith Carradine) preferred go-to strategy of military intervention. Meanwhile, precocious Jason (Evan Roe) interviews his father (Tim Daly) for a school report in the new episode "Blame Canada." John Finn, Robert Klein and Johanna Day guest star.

NFL Football

7:20 p.m. on KSHB

Two teams with Super Bowl aspirations come to loggerheads tonight in Denver, where Peyton Manning and the Broncos hope to leave a lasting impression on Colin Kaepernick and the San Francisco 49ers. The 49ers' pass defense is among the league's stingiest and could pose problems for Manning and his fleet of elite receivers. The Broncos' questionable run defense, meanwhile, will be hard-pressed to stop the Niners' efficient ground game.

Brooklyn Nine-Nine

7:30 p.m. on WDAF

As their traditional Halloween challenge, Jake (Andy Samberg) bets Capt. Holt (Andre Braugher) that he can steal his wristwatch by midnight. Elsewhere, Terry (Terry Crews) confronts a surly Gina (Chelsea Peretti) about her attitude after she is kicked off her dance team, Floorgasm. Melissa Fumero, Joe Lo Truglio and Stephanie Beatriz also star in the new episode "Halloween II."

Family Guy

8 p.m. on WDAF

In the new Halloween-themed episode "Baking Bad," Lois and Peter (voices of Alex Borstein, Seth MacFarlane) open a cookie store together, but things get messy when Peter, in search of more dough, comes up with a half-baked scheme to bring in more customers. The voice cast also includes Mila Kunis, Mike Henry, Seth Green and Patrick Warburton.

The Good Wife

8 p.m. on KCTV

Elsbeth Tascioni alert! Fan favorite Carrie Preston returns to her Emmy-winning recurring role as the strategically brilliant yet attention-challenged attorney in a new episode called, aptly enough, "Shiny Objects." Alicia and Dean (Juliana Margulies, guest star Taye Diggs) face off against Elsbeth and Rayna Hecht (Jill Hennessy, "Crossing Jordan") as they represent a fired female CEO in a sex discrimination suit against her former company. Jan Maxwell guest stars.

Resurrection

8 p.m. on KMBC

In the new episode "Old Scars," Margaret (guest star Michelle Fairley) pushes Lucille (Frances Fisher) to host a dinner celebrating the return of Jacob (Landon Gimenez). What starts out as a vaguely uncomfortable gathering, however, quickly becomes even more tense with the arrival of some unexpected guests that strain family relations to the breaking point. Elsewhere, Rachael (guest star Kathleen Munroe) gets some troubling news about her baby, while Bellamy (Omar Epps) continues his research on the mysterious bones.

Masterpiece Mystery!

8 p.m., 12:30 a.m. on KCPT, KTWU

Thirteen years after the first successful arrest of Lewis' (Kevin Whately) career as a detective inspector, the case is reopened for appeal based on dubious forensics in the new episode "Inspector Lewis, Season 7: Beyond Good and Evil." Lewis already fears the worst, but even so he is unprepared for a new string of murders resembling the original killings, with the original weapon. Did he arrest the wrong man? Laurence Fox also stars.

Halloween Wars

8 p.m., 11 p.m. on FOOD

The three remaining teams — each composed of a virtuoso pumpkin carver, a cake decorator and a sugar artist — compete to create a Halloween display capturing an epic battle between two groups of iconic Halloween creatures: mummies and werewolves. Actress Francia Raisa ("The Secret Life of the American Teenager") joins Brian Kinney and Shinmin Li on the judges panel for the new episode "Mummies vs. Werewolves."

Boardwalk Empire

8 p.m., 10:30 p.m., 12 a.m. on HBO

In the new episode "Friendless Child," Nucky (Steve Buscemi) tries to hold onto his assets in Atlantic City. Willie and Eli (Ben Rosenfield, Shea Whigham) get swept up in Nucky's war with Luciano (Vincent Piazza). Maranzano (Giampiero Judica) meets his fate. Gillian (Gretchen Mol) sends Nucky a letter from the hospital. In 1897, Mabel (Maya Kazan) and Nucky argue over a young runaway from Trenton. John Ellison Conlee also stars.

Mulaney

8:30 p.m. on WDAF

In a well-intentioned tribute to his late neighbor, Lapidus, John (John Mulaney) uses some of the dead man's jokes in Lou's (Martin Short) monologue. Then, with his contract with Lou set to expire on Halloween, John goes to ghoulish extremes, including possible grave-robbing, to retrieve more material by the deceased and prove his worth to his boss. Nasim Pedrad, Seaton Smith, Zack Pearlman and Elliott Gould also star in the new episode "Halloween."

Manzo'd With Children

8:30 p.m., 11:30 p.m., 1:02 a.m. on

BRAVO

When Albie tells Lauren he wants nothing more to do with her after a major falling-out, Caroline gives them 24 hours to make peace. Al Sr. strikes a deal to market a line of sauces based on Caroline's family recipes, but Caroline worries that her recipes might not be good enough for mass production in the new episode "Brothers & Sisters."

CSI: Crime Scene Investigation

9 p.m. on KCTV

While examining the evidence after a chemistry teacher's science experiment goes terribly, terribly wrong, Russell (Ted Danson) and the CSI team begin to suspect that some foul play was involved in a new episode called "The Book of Shadows." Marissa Jaret Winokur, Skipp Sudduth and Bella Thorne guest star.

My Five Wives

9 p.m., 11 p.m. on TLC

Self-described progressive polygamists, the Williams family, returns for a new 10-episode season with "Mending a Marriage," which finds Brady arranging a 20th anniversary re-do date in an attempt to repair his relationship with Robyn. Elsewhere, Nonie frets about her difficulty getting pregnant, and three daughters are graduating high school with hopes to move out for college.

Revenge

9:01 p.m. on KMBC

The title of tonight's new episode is "Meteor," and certainly the return of the long-believed-dead David Clarke (James Tupper) qualifies as a bolt right out of the blue, even on a show as twist-happy as this one. Needless to say, Emily (Emily VanCamp) is shaken to her core, even more so when she comes to realize her father is not the man she remembers — and that's sure to be even more true as Victoria (Madeleine Stowe) sinks her claws deeper into him. Josh Bowman and Nick Wechsler also star.

Great Estates Scotland

9:30 p.m., 2 a.m. on KCPT, KTWU

A new episode explores the 70-room Kincardine Castle, which is surrounded by 3,000 acres — and occupied by only two people, Andrew and Nicky Bradford. Think twice before being jealous, however: In a little over a century, the castle has gone from being nothing worse than an extravagance for its owners to presenting an ongoing struggle for its current occupants to keep afloat.

Best Bets

Cutthroat Kitchen

9:30 p.m., 12:30 a.m. on FOOD

In the new episode “Chip Off the Ol’ Baklava,” three chefs must rummage through boxes to get their cookware, then one chef nearly goes all to pieces when forced to use only tortilla chips for tools. Finally, the chefs find themselves in a very sticky situation while harvesting ingredients out of a giant pot of honey.

NASCAR Racing

12 a.m. on ESPN2

With the Eliminator Round looming after today’s Geico 500, survival will be on the minds of Chase contenders as they prepare to do battle on Alabama’s infamous Talladega Superspeedway. The 2.66-mile tri-oval is known for high speeds and tight racing quarters that can lead to “the big one,” multicar pileups that can put an early end to a driver’s day and thus dash Cup hopes. Jeff Gordon, Dale Earnhardt Jr. and Matt Kenseth all have run well here.

Monday

Gotham

7 p.m. on WDAF

In a new episode called “Viper,” Gordon and Bullock (Ben McKenzie, Donal Logue) search for the source of a new street drug that causes intense euphoria, then — oh, bummer! — death.
